FOABER

TPR & Hybrid Fusion

Following the success of our original range the team at Foaber have developed new innovative designs to further excite and stimulate your pet. Each item employs a combination of tough TPR and lightweight Durafoam resulting in an exhilarating new toy with a high bounce-back, it is kind to teeth and has the ability to float.

Research has shown dynamic play between owner and pet encourages a lasting bond and provides an outlet for excess energy in active pets, which acts as a deterrent from possible bad behaviour.

Each product utilises a bold colour palette to not only create a visually striking display in-store but combines the most visual receptive colours to a dog's colour spectrum; this stimulates senses and ensures high-visibility during active, outdoor play.

A nod to the classic stick loved by dogs of all sizes and breeds, our Foaber Molecule is a fun retrieval toy. Using an interlocking design to securely combine TPR and Durafoam; their material nature allows for a flexible and supple product that still is incredibly durable and has a strong material structure. Available in 2 sizes to best suit your dog.

Our Foaber Nucleus is perfect for energetic play; the aerodynamic design of the outer Durafoam ring promises high velocity when thrown through the air. The TPR inner ball is fully detachable making this a great 2in1 product to enjoy in the dog park (and replaceable if the ball is thrown a little too far!) and thanks to the inner ball's bumpy surface, it's perfect for massaging gums and cleaning teeth during play.

Our combination of TPR and Durafoam results in a lightweight, stylish product. Both TPR and Durafoam are known for their high bounce and springy nature, we have employed this into a distinctive and bold design to give our Foaber Atom a highly erratic bounce resulting an unpredictable and stimulating game of fetch. Thick TPR walls ensure this product is suitable for powerful jaws of any size whilst the outer bumps massage and soothe gums during play.
